

Art and Survival: Navajo Weaving and Stories 150 years after The Long Walk

Saturday, April 7, 2018

Master Weaver Lynda Teller Pete shares historical perspective and personal stories about how the 1863-1868 relocation to Bosque Redondo impacted the lives and art of the Navajo people. Her presentation will include photos and a weaving demonstration. Sponsored by Evergreen Mountain Area Historical Society. Instruction will be geared for adults, but children who are interested in history are welcome to attend with an adult.
